

SABRA SCHMOOZE
4 PARENTS

FOURTH EDITION
8. JULY 2016

In this week's edition...

Shabbat Love.....	3
Maccabia.....	4
#MySabraStory.....	6
Jewish Value of the Week.....	7

SHABBAT LOVE

The final Shabbat of Session One... It was a great one!

MACCABIA

WE WIN!

RED

YELLOW

GREEN

BLUE

MACCABIA cont.

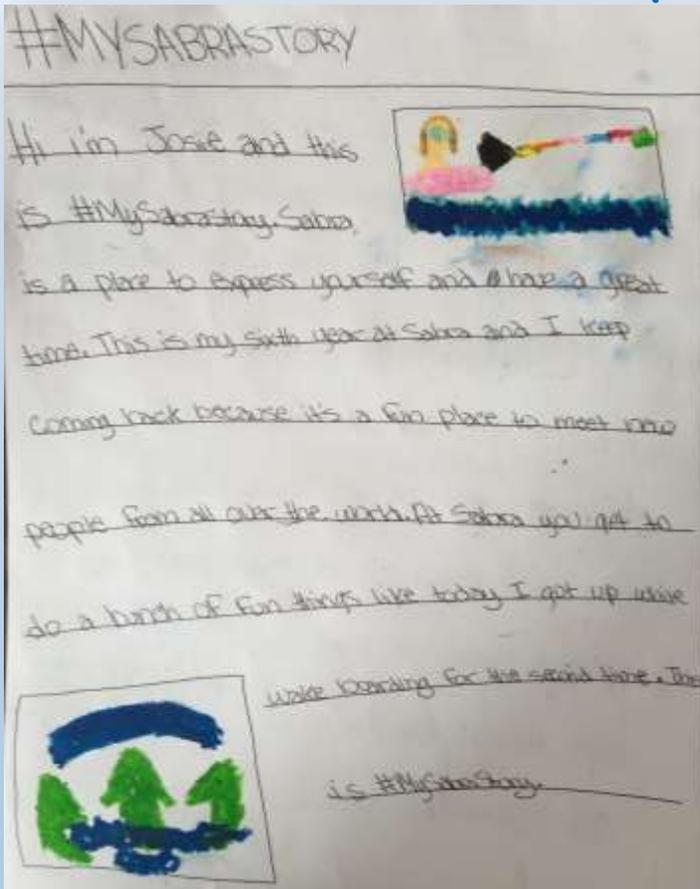

This year, Maccabia was a huge success. The theme was “The Jungle Book”, and the color war spirit was out of this world. All four teams blew the judges away with their creativity, spirit, endurance, and all-around joy. Although the red team took the title as this session’s victor, ultimately everyone is a winner here at Camp Sabra. Congrats to the blue, green, yellow, and red team!

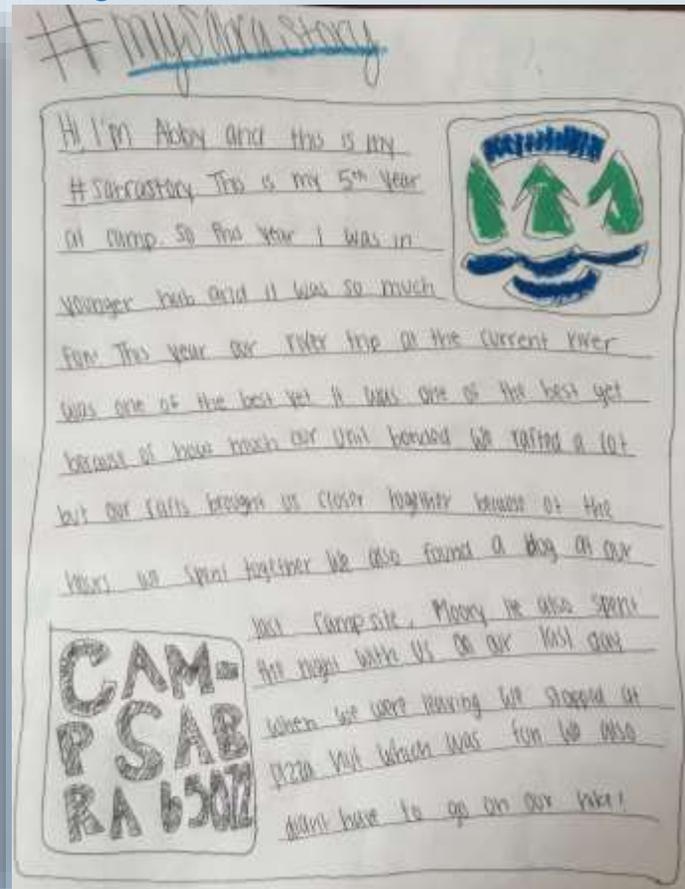

#MySabraStory

This week, Younger Hab Cabin G-14 made their own blog posts! They were asked to write about their own Sabra experiences, and this is what they came up with. Check out two of the blogs posts here, and check out more on www.campsabrablog.com!

"Hi, I'm Josie and this is #MySabraStory. Sabra is a place to express yourself and have a great time. This is my sixth year at Sabra and I keep coming back because it's a fun place to meet new people from all over the world. At Sabra, you get to do a bunch of fun things like today I got up while wakeboarding for the second time. This is #MySabraStory."

"Hi, I'm Abby and this is #MySabraStory. This is my fifth year at camp. So this year I was in younger hab and it was so much fun! This year our river trip at the current river was one of the best yet. It was one of the best yet because of how much our unit bonded. We rafted a lot but our rafts brought us closer together because of the hours we spent together. We also found a dog at our last campsite, Moory. He also spent the night with us. Our last day when we were leaving, we stopped at Pizza Hut which was fun. We also didn't have to go on our hike!"

Jewish Value of the Week: SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

From our Judaics Director, Rachel Dingman:

As our time at Camp Sabra comes to an end, we took a moment to reflect on the lessons we learned, the people we became, and the values we would be taking with us as we get on the buses and go back to our home communities. As we discussed this week's value, Social Responsibility, we reflected on how to take active roles in camp, with our friends, and in the world--knowing that we all bring something unique and special to this puzzle that we call earth. We are leaving camp with this quote in mind:

לֹא עָלֶיךָ הַמְּלָאכָה לְגַמּוֹר, וְלֹא אַתָּה בֶּן חוּרִין לְבָטֵל מִמְּנָה.

"It is not your responsibility to finish the work, but neither are you free to refrain from it."

Here's to an incredible session! Thanks for stopping by...

